Talent And Desire

Produce Relentless Team

The Varsity Football team of 1969 proved to be the most explosive in Iona history. The offense, with the passing of Kim Purcell and the running of John Carlucci and Joe Tartaglia, aided by the finest line in the county, averaged over 33 points a game in league competition. The defense meanwhile, led by linebackers Jim Koop and Ed Robinson, held the opposition to an average of 13 points a game.

After a crushing defeat to St. Francis in its first contest (25-22), the team refused to surrender its spirit, and beat Holy Cross (36-0). A disappointing loss to Mount St. Michael followed (33-20). With a 1-2 won-lost record, the team needed a convincing win, which came over a strong Stepinac squad (26-8). The team completed its season with victories over Cardinal Spellman (56-0), Cardinal Hayes (32-22) and Holy Family (41-12) in the Divisional Playoffs. The season was culminated with the defeat of their cross-town rival, New Rochelle (16-8).

Sporting a fine 5 and 2 record and the best offensive unit in the county, the Iona Gaels entered the annual Turkey Bowl with high hopes of halting the Purple Wave. With the first series of plays, it looked as though their hopes were truthful. Behind Kim Purcell's pinpoint aerials and the running of Joe Tartaglia and John Carlucci, the Irish moved the ball effortlessly to the New Rochelle 3, where Kim Purcell plunged over on a quarterback sneak. Following the kick-off, the defense took charge with Ed Robinson, Dick Ambrose and Jim Koop turning in fine performances. They held for three plays, and on fourth down, blocked the punt.

Once again, the explosive unit powered its way to the New Rochelle 5, with the aid of two key penalties. From the 5, All-County quarterback Kim Purcell fired a strike to John Carlucci. Making the second conversion good, the Gaels led 16-0.

As it turned out, that was to be the final score for the Prep. In the second quarter, New Rochelle scored on a 50 yard drive for its only score. The second half shaped up as a defensive struggle, with the Irish defense holding on a key 4th and 3 situation. Iona controlled the ball for the remaining minutes, and as the final quarter ended, Iona had won its third consecutive Turkey Bowl.

This year's J.V. Football team, due to fine determination, produced the best record in over 20 years. After opening with a crushing loss to St. Francis, the team rallied to a respectable 4-2-1 record in C.H.S.F.L. competition. Under the guidance of Coach Bill Klika and Assistant Vincent Farrell, the "Little Irish" handed defeats to Mount St. Michael, 8-6, Stepinac, 24-6, and Cardinal Spellman, 34-6. The season ended on a high note with a hard-fought 8-6 victory over Holy Cross.

This combination of talent, shown throughout the season left no doubt that many members of this squad will emerge as Varsity standouts.

Frosh Divisional Champs

Strength, size and talent combined with an abundance of spirit and determination to lead the Frosh gridders to their third consecutive divisional title. Under the skillful leadership of Head Coach, James Moore, Assistant Coach, John Slocum, and moderator, Brother James K. Devlin, the Frosh compiled a five and two record. Their two losses were at the hands of Holy Cross early in the season, and Chaminade in the league title game. Led by co-captains Phil Price and Chip Guarino along with Bob Veteri, the Freshmen promise to keep the winning tradition at Iona for years to come.

Returning Harriers Spark Improved Team

The Fall Cross Country Team completed a winning season in both Varsity and Freshman divisions. The Varsity squad led by Coach Br. James Harlow and Captain Dennis Hanratty placed well in the championship meets in New York City and Westchester. In the Providence R.I. Championships, they finished sixth out of twenty strong track schools in the Northeast. In dual meets, they finished with a 5-4 won – lost record. Many great individual performances were turned in by Seniors Bill O'Loughlin, Dennis Hanratty, Bob Chappetta, Mike Richen and Neil Callahan. Great effort was also manifested by Juniors: Ray Caruso, Jim Walsh and George O'Loughlin and Sophomores Mike Kiernan, Ed Dougherty, and Jerry Sexton. School records for their respective years were broken by Dennis Hanratty, Jim Walsh, and Mike Kiernan.

The Freshman team, under the watchful eye of Br. Robert Pavlica, did exceptionally well. Led by co-captains Jack Egan and Ed Bugsch, they swept the Tolentine Invitational, the New Rochelle Championships and the CHSAA Championships. They took a close second in the Westchester Open Championships and fourth in the CHSAA Intersectionals. In dual meets, they compiled an 8-0-1, won – lost – tied record. Altogether, the team brought home three trophies and over fifty medals.

This year's Varsity Tennis squad, under the leadership of Coach Randolf Jenne and Captain Chris Tully, displayed great ability in both singles and doubles competition, thus becoming an Eastern High School tennis power. This winning team was manned by Juniors Ray Palmer, Dave Moran, Pete Knoblock, Bob Mahoney, Kevin Glynn, and anchored by Seniors Vin Haas, Chris Tully, Ray Henze, Bruce Sheehan, Phil Lauer, and Dennis Giacomo.

The team's great depth in substitutes and the consistency of its front line players showed in the tournaments entered. Although hampered by the lack of practices due to bad weather they proved their superiority in each match. As a result, the team was recognized as the most powerful in the C.H.S.A.A.

A Desire To Give Of Themselves

The Young Christian Students

This year has been one of accomplishment and fulfillment for the Young Christian Students of Iona Prep. Under the inspirational guidance of Mr. Puglia and Br. Costa, along with the skillful leadership of Co-Prefects Philip Gunn and Richard Cerussi, this society's greatest expectations have been met and surpassed. The fall Y.C.S. dance and its command re-performance in the winter produced well over $1,500 for the missions. As the result of the Thanksgiving Day Turkey and Food drive, sponsored by the Y.C.S., many needy families of St. Cecilia's Parish in Harlem celebrated a bountiful Thanksgiving Day. Also included in the year's agenda was the spring Orphans' Day which was undoubtedly a huge success.

These great accomplishments by the Young Christian Students of Iona would not have been possible without the active and generous support of the student body. Based on this past year's experiences, one can only make the conclusion that this same success and more will be achieved in the years to come.

Acceptance into the Iona Chapter of the National Honor Society is a great honor. Scholastic excellence, participation in school activities and leadership comprise the character of these commendable Iona men. Under the competent guidance of Br. Daigneault and the management of President Bruce Sheehan, Vice-President James Malgieri and Secretary James Koop, the N.H.S. fulfilled their diverse goals of the tutorial service, annual Honors Night and Student Re-Evaluation Committee.

Through its performance and accomplishments, the National Honor Society has proven to be an integral function of Iona with its necessary and increasing role in the faculty and student relationship.

The Student Council, while continuing to be the voice of the students in the school, took on a new dimension this year by involving the Prep students in current affairs. There were two chief accomplishments in this regard: the Community Action Program and the Moratorium Day discussions.

The Community Action Program proved to be a tremendous success. The Prep students showed a great interest in the program and many people benefited from Iona's active participation. In all, more than forty Ionians took part in the overall program, which included tutoring, hospital work and recreation moderating within the community.

The Moratorium Day discussions, which served to acquaint the students with the Vietnam issue, was also initiated and sponsored by the Council. The day-long agenda included guest speakers and open discussions. Although controversial, this day showed the desire of Iona students to become actively involved in events that affect them.

However, the needs of the students at school were far from forgotten. There were many proposals brought forth and the council members worked endlessly to try and fulfill the desires of the students at the Prep. A great deal of credit should be given to President Ray Henze and Vice-President Brian Melody for their spirit, enthusiasm and unifying drive.

President Ray Henze speaks to the Council concerning the Community Action Program a Vice-President Brian Melody surveys the meeting.

Bob Bellew escorts parents through the library during the Open House, in which Studer Council members conducted tours.

Contemplating the strategy of the upcoming match are Mr. Naversen and Mr. Puglia.

The Forensics Society encompasses both the Oratory and Debate teams, and both have finished another successful year. Under the leadership of Mr. Naversen and his assistants Messrs. Puglia and de-Barros, the teams have either won or placed highly in all the tournaments they entered. The student presidents of the clubs, T. J. Maloney of Debate and Art Rosiello of Oratory also contributed greatly to the success of their teams, as did Oratory vice-president Mike May and senior Ray Henze.

After bringing back the first place trophy from the state-wide Albany tournament, the varsity Debate teamists successfully competed in such nation-wide events as St. John's, Hendric Hudson, and Dartmouth.

Since this year's Forensics teams were composed primarily of experienced juniors, next year's performance will display their talents.

Although the Hockey Team proved to be unsuccessful, it was not due to a lack of talent or determination. The team had desire, a necessary ingredient for victory, although this escaped the hungry grasp of the Blades. Under the inspired leadership of captain Terry Reddington, assisted by Julius Valiunas and Ray Burigo, the team excelled in fierce competitive hockey.

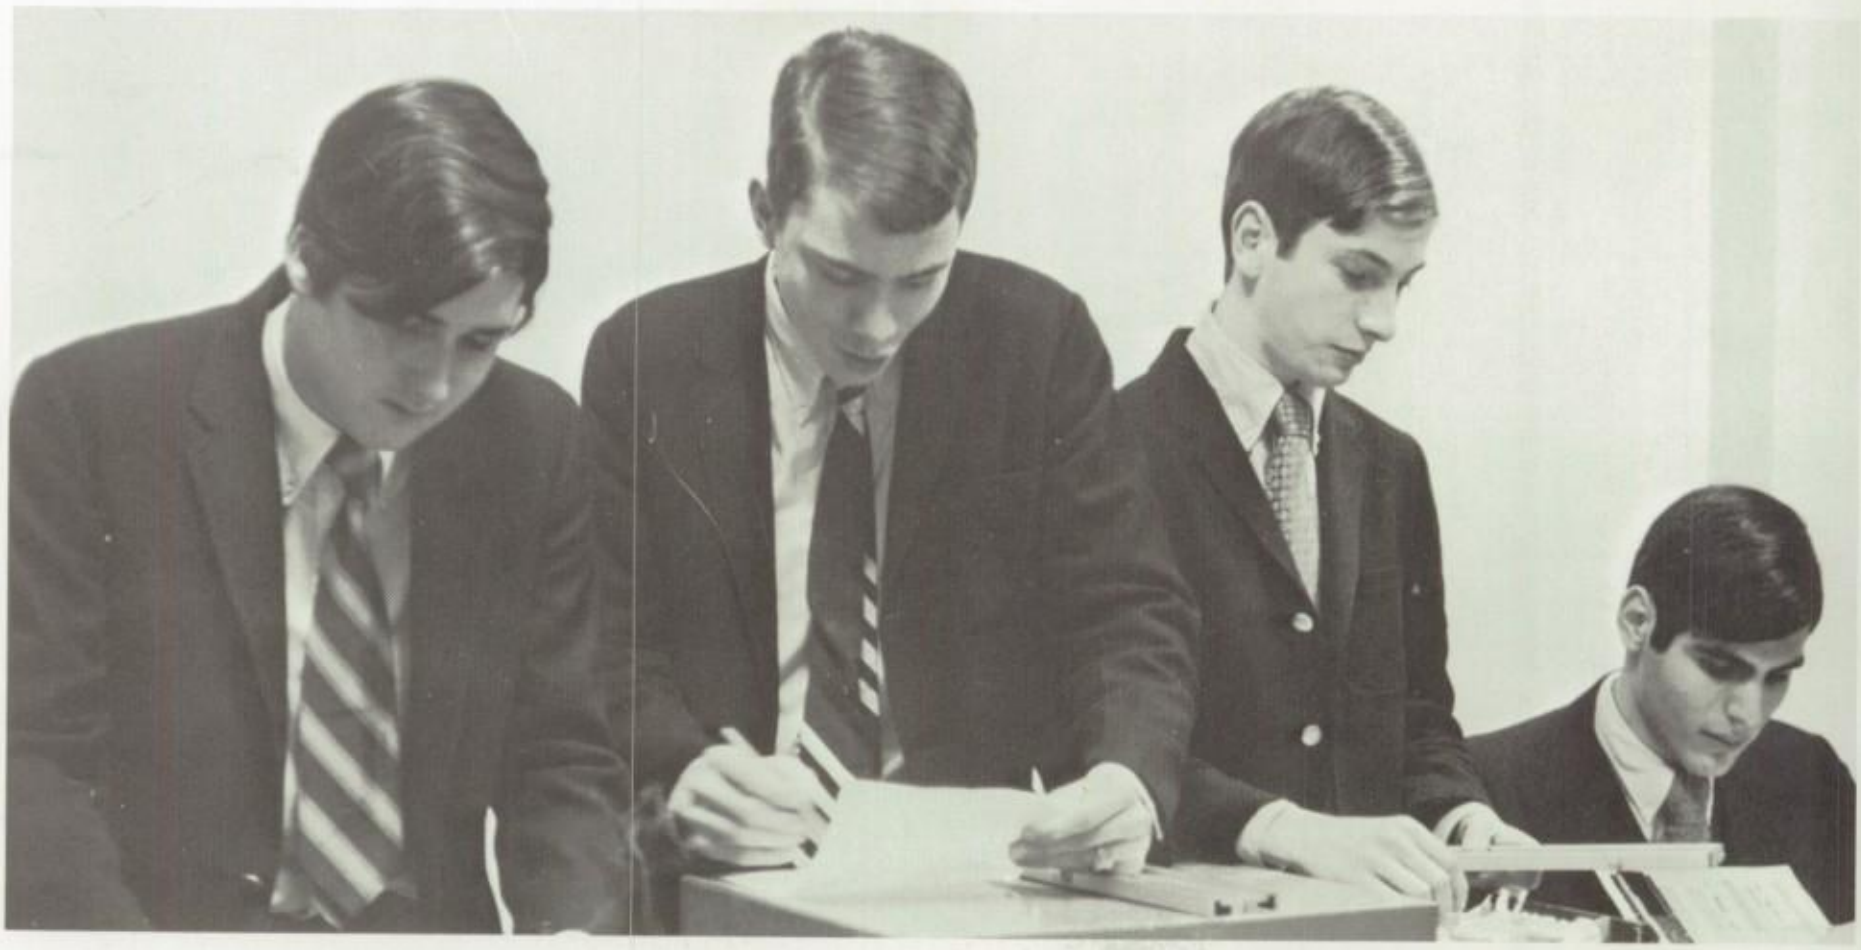
Iona News Seeks To Inform Students



The office staff consisted of Stan Corcoran, John Howley, Bob Cole and Tony Inzerillo. Below: Scott Leslie, Managing Editor; Ray Henze, Editorial Chief; Mike May, Copy Editor.

This year the Iona News set and achieved a goal seldom seen in a high school newspaper. Under the direction of moderator Mr. Mulcahy and Co-Editors Joe McConnell and Bob Bellew, the staff continually published a finely-balanced newspaper. The Iona News not only covered the social and sports events of the school, but expanded its scope to include personal opinions and national and world affairs. A new column, "Counterpoint", served to give the students a chance to view both sides on many important issues which influenced them. In the paper, the students were allowed to express their opinions with regard to many topics ranging from school to national problems. The newspaper set marks in other areas, publishing a bi-monthly paper whose length surpassed that of any other year. We congratulate the editors and staff of the Iona News for a phenomenal year.

Wrestling Shows Promise In Its Second Year

Wrestling, in its second year at Iona, has made vast strides in spirit, training and size. The team has grown from 'ast year's 17 members to this year's number of forty-five. This year's program scheduled two bouts a week for every wrestler and weightlifting for those on their days off. The youthful Iona grapplers displayed an aggressive and determined spirit which was tested in meets against New Rochelle and Mount Vernon.

The coaching staff of Mr. Slocum and Mr. Sydlansky, the originators of the program, and Mr. Jenne, have provided the guidance and leadership to insure future success.

Ability And Leadership Characterize Captain's Corps

This year, the Captain's Corps, under the direction of Mr. Margotta and Mr. Slocum, numbered some forty members. The members, chosen by both Mr. Margotta and Mr. Slocum, are selected on the basis of their potential as leaders and achievement in class, as well as on their physical ability. The Captain's Corps serves the school by demonstrating the various moves and serving as spotters for the different pieces of equipment during the gym classes. They act as referees for the intramural branch of sports after school and many of the captains are also involved in activities outside the school, such as community action programs.

They also planned different trips during the school year to see gymnastic exhibitions and meets, as well as wrestling matches.

The ice and snow of winter could not refuse Iona tracksters from an impressive performance this season. Forced indoors, the Iona track team progressed favorably under the leadership of Co-captains Bill O'Loughlin and Bob Chappetta and the talented guidance of Coach Brother Harlow.

The season was highlighted by a two-mile relay team, composed of Dennis Hanratty, Bill O'Loughlin, Mike Richen, and Ray Caruso. For the first time in Iona's history, a team qualified in the Eastern States Championships due to the effort of these men.

An additional factor of this year's successful team was its depth of promising athletes such as George Marrone, Chris Danielle, Bill Scott, and Paul Shiels. Also running for the last time at Iona, Rich Papantonio, John Morio, Mario Suarez and Greg Sevos.

The combined abundance of talent and coaching, coincided with exhuberant spirit and enthusiasm on the track and in the weight room, resulted in another fine season of Iona track.

This year, as in the past, the Iona Swimming Team maintained its fine tradition with a victory-studded record. The explosive force which unleashed this abundance of talent, determination and desire was the skillful leadership of Coach Leo Butler and Bro. Paul Daigneault, moderator. This year's tankers, though suffering from key graduation losses, have excelled in competition highlighted by senior co-captains Don Carli and Rich Clifford.

Also participating for their last time are Seniors Stan Corcoran, Skip Rooney and Bob Sullivan. The future holds great promise with Juniors Kevin McTernan, Dave Porter, Sophomores Tom Clifford, Vance Comerford, and Freshmen Kevin McMullan, Tom MacNiven and Bob Tarpey.

Overwhelming Spirited Comeback Marks Successful Season

Hopes for a city championship reigned as the basketball season began. This was to be the year in which the Irish would overcome the basketball giants of the C.H.S.A.A.

Co-captains and all-league prospects John Falconi and Ed Robinson led a team of scant experience and undaunted spirit. However, due to the inexperienced backcourt men, victory evaded the team until very late in the season. The only bright note during the regular season was the triumph in the New Rochelle Christmas Tournament. John Falconi's record-breaking point performance combined with Ed Robinson's tough rebounding and crisp passing by guards Jim Scully and Nick Florio lifted Iona by Yonkers and arch-rival Stepinac to the tourney title.

Slumping after this unexpected surge, the team lost six close contests and the outlook was dim. The dry spell ended with a victory over Xavier at the Garden and the Irish began to roll. A subsequent victory over Sacred Heart put them in the playoffs. After three more impressive romps over Sacred Heart, Xavier and St. Raymonds the team then looked forward to playing the number one team in the country – Power. Entering the game as decided underdogs, they fought for every shot and every rebound. Power staggered past the Ionians by stalling in the closing moments as the highly spirited team moved within three points. This impressive show paved the way for the team to face the county powers. They proceeded then to smash New Rochelle and White Plains proving themselves the best team in the county. John Falconi and Ed Robinson closed out their varsity careers by putting on a remarkable display of shooting and overall team play. John hit for 35 points by making 16 of 20 field goal tries. Ed was just as accurate as he hit 11 out of 14 shots.

A year – a season past – but never forgotten.

Stevens, Gene Cullen, Bob McMullan, Steve McLynn, Steve Manning, Bob Petrocelli.

The 1970 J.V. Basketball Team coached by Bro. Stevens and led by captain Ralph Pucci was a true example of team spirit and dedication. As the team possessed no truly outstanding individual, success relied heavily on the quickness and mobility of guards Charlie Logan, Bill Byrne, Tom Borgia, Mike Avalone, Kevin Taylor, and Mike Misisco. Complementing these players was the rebounding and scoring potential found in the front court composed of Steve Manning, Gene Cullen, Ernie Fiore, Bob McMullin, Jack O'Connell and Bob Petrocelli. Although the season started on a disappointing note for the "Little Irish", the competitiveness of the contests showed the strong attitude possessed by this unit. The Catholic High School City Division League in which Iona competes includes such notables as Rice, LaSalle and arch-rival Stepinac and is a true test of one's athletic capabilities and enthusiasm.

Fledgling Frosh Team Offers Hope For Future Championship

The record of this years Freshman Basketball team does not show their determination and hard work. They have played well against Walt Whitman, Fordham, and All Hallows beating each squad at least once. The Little Irish have had trouble, however, against the "city teams" like Power, Rice and Regis.

Brilliant shooting and play-making by John Tolomer and Chris Campbell, the rebounding of Steve Garagiola and Bob Veteri, and the all around hustle of Brian Heelan gave Coach Brother McGoldrick outstanding material with which to work. Along with an excellent bench, it is Coach McGolderick's job to try and mold this talent into a team and prepare them for J.V. and Varsity play.

Le Club Francais

The French Club

Under the skillful supervision of Madame Andre, the French Club achieved a new height this year. Assisting her in management were the President, Gerry Gallagher, and the Secretary, Art Grainger.

The main purpose of the French Club is to afford the students the opportunity to become better acquainted with French culture through literature, discussions, movies, and excursions of value and interest. Also, it offers its members the advantage of becoming more fluent in the French language.

When the French Club was not viewing French movies, or listening to music, it was reading and discussing native magazines or receiving lectures in the language by a member or a guest speaker. A number of the French Club's members are planning a trip to France with the Foreign Study League this summer. A few of the many highlights of this year were: lectures accompanied by slides on the Soviet Union and Paris, a trip to a French film, and an evening in a French restaurant. The traditional football, soccer, basketball and softball games between the Spanish and French Clubs were held successfully.

All in all, it has proven to be a most successful year for the French Club and all of its members.

The Spanish Club

One of the main causes of prejudice in our society has been an indifference towards certain ethnic groups, produced by a lack of knowledge. The most effective means of erasing this attitude has repeatedly proven to be a study of their cultures. This is the quest of the Spanish Club, a group of desirous individuals whose main object is the attainment of a deeper insight into the customs of various Spanish speaking people.

By far one of the more active organizations in the school, the Spanish Club has included among its annual activities lectures by several prominent individuals, a most successful Christmas Party, dinner at a Spanish restaurant, and a lamb roast garnished with dishes peculiar to the Spanish people. The events of the year also include the publication of a Spanish newspaper and several films describing life in South America and Mexico.

Under the most competent guidance of Moderator Mr. R. Ruyack, assisted by president Steve Malarick and vice-presidents Peter Acocella and Ernie Collabolletta, the club offers the opportunity for development of openmindedness and an awareness of other people, the goal of Christian education.

With the diligent and persistent participation of the members, the officers once again molded a group with unlimited capacity, a potential which found total fulfillment.

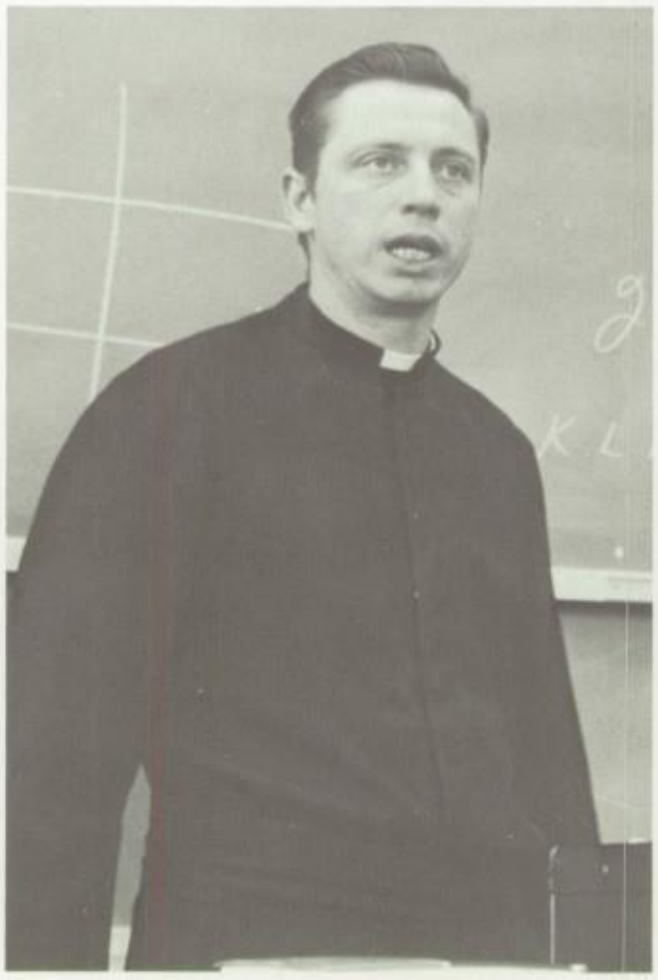
Varsity Strikes Again



Moderator Brother Kent.

This year's Varsity Bowling team, led by many returning stars, had an impressive year. Among the veterans on the team were Captain Phil Gunn and superstar Nick Tarallo. New additions to the roster who turned in fine performances were Joe Milano and Bob Pappas.

The team competed against most of the strong bowling teams in the county and proved their ability in league competition. Although there were many great individual performances, the team did not lack strength. The keglers enjoyed great depth and every member of the squad showed that he was capable of rolling a good game under pressure.

This year's flourishing and delightful Iona dances were the result of long hours of preparation by the Dance Committee. Under the incentive of moderator Brother Stevens along with the Co-Presidents Tom O'Leary and Mark Duffy, the Dance Committee successfully performed such diverse tasks as publicity, set-up, coat-checking, refreshments and clean up necessary for making Iona dances unequalled. In order to execute the unique quality of Iona mixers, the Dance Committee incorporated such innovations as the guest card, light show and obtained such well-known bands as Big River and Tiny's Empire. The efforts of this year's Dance Committee have produced an admirable reputation for Iona dances which the underclass members hope to equal in the future.

Library Council Aids In Library Maintenance

One of the school's most important activities is the Iona Prep Library Council. Under the leadership of Moderator Miss Riedinger, president Joe McConnell and vice-president Doug Artusio, the Council has had a very successful year. Secretary-Treasurer Joe Lehmann has done a fine job in handling the Council's administrative work. In addition to the circulating of books and magazines and the filing of these materials, which were its traditional duties, this year, the staff was given the responsibility of maintaining the Iona Scrapbook and has revised its constitution. Also, it has become a key member of the Westchester Student Library Association and has become an authorized selling agent for the New York Times. In three years, the Library Council has done much in building the Prep Library and much is expected in the future.

Saga Recounts Year's Activities

The 1970 Saga of Iona staff, in endeavoring to present the story of Iona Prep life, tried many new and innovative ideas in this, the latest edition of the Saga. The most important of these was that of relating the functions of the Activities and Sports in sentence form. In former yearbooks only the name of the activity appeared. Another first for this year's staff is that this is the biggest book put out by the students to date, totaling 192 pages. Co-Editors Kip Calnan and Jim Malgieri worked with Moderator Br. James K. Devlin to bring about these improvements.

As for the book itself, work began over the summer and a basic layout for the Saga was designed. By the time the students returned to school in September, the Yearbook staff had begun its task.

Working on the Opening Section, which portrays the students' life here at the Prep, were Co-Editors Kip Calnan and Jim Malgieri. The class section was handled by Peter Brown, Bob Mahoney and Jim Barrett. The graduate section, unique from all other previous presentations because of the omission of write-ups, was covered by the Editors and Tim Geraghty.

The Sports Sections, organized by Sports Editor Rich Cerussi, traced the athletics at the Prep throughout the year. Rich worked on all varsity sports with the help of Jim Koop and Rich Salcedo. Swimming was presented by Kevin Murray and Chuck Moylan, while Peter Rossi and Mario Suarez worked on Track. Hockey was covered by Scott Leslie, while Mike Avalone worked on sports on the J.V. level.

The Activities, which receive the most space in the Saga, were coordinated by Kip Calnan and Jim Malgieri. Working on the various parts of this section were: Dan Quinn, John McLean, Tony Inzerillo, Dan Tartaglia, Carmen Valvo, Paul McEvoy, John Sore and Tom Trainor.

In conclusion the 1970 Saga of Iona staff would like to thank Photography Staff Editor Fred Penichet and Moderator Br. James K. Devlin for their cooperation and assistance in producing this year's edition of the Saga of Iona.

Fathers Plan And Take Action

Again supporting Iona and its students, the Fathers' Club enjoyed another successful program this year. Its calendar of events included a barbecue in conjunction with the Grammar School fathers. The annual Christmas dinner-dance proved to be both very successful and enjoyable to Iona parents. The Fathers also sponsored a Career Day which allowed the students to be acquainted with various professions. The finale of this year was the annual Sports Dinner which honored the athletic ability of Iona students.

Sparking the successful year was Mr. Edward Gallowitz, who served as President. Aiding him were Vice-President Mr. Philip Jakeway, Secretary Mr. Arnold Troncone, and Treasurer Mr. William Larkin.

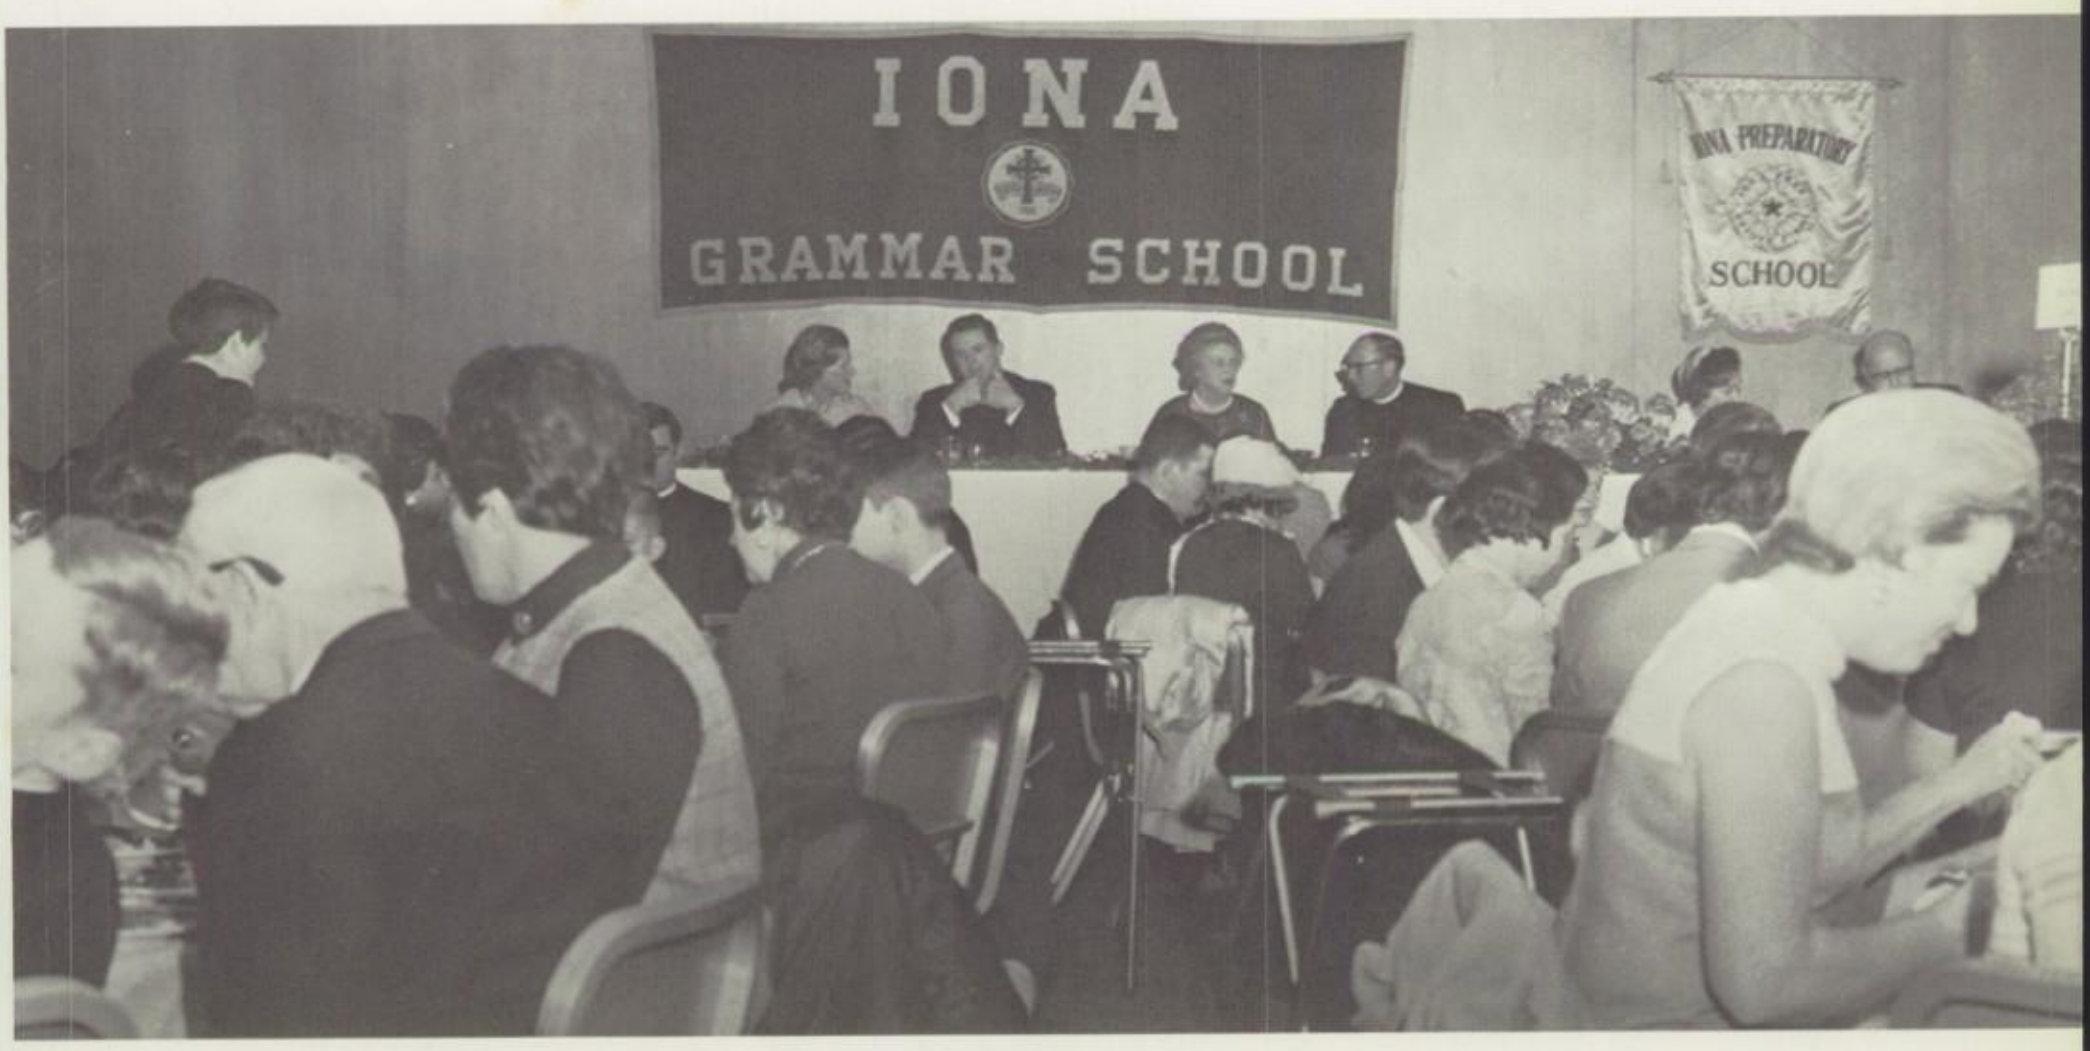
Mothers Continue Generous Aid Of School



The Mothers' Auxiliary, under the able leadership of Mrs. Frank DeMario, began its golden anniversary year with the fall meeting at the Grammar School. Guest speaker for the event was Lucy Freeman, author of "Farewell to Fear", who spoke on the problems facing today's children.

The next important undertaking was the annual Mother-Son Communion Breakfast held at Schrafft's. Rev. Robert T. Kennedy enlightened the mothers on the subject of the generation gap.

The annual Christmas meeting was highlighted by a lecture on modern trends in teaching Theology and the Liturgy by Br. John Walderman of the Grammar School and Mr. Robert Ruyack.

The climax of the year was the Emerald Isle Luncheon and Fashion Show held at the Westchester Country Club. Rev. Brother Delaney and Rev. Brother Burns picked the lucky winners of the sweepstakes drawing and many other prizes. The ample funds of this year's efforts paid for the Prep's new bus.

A Vital Element In Iona's Total Complexion

As spring comes to our campus, the Iona linksmen take to the tlocal courses. Seniors Scott Leslie, Jim White, Vince Comerford, and Bill Daly are responsible for posting one of the most impressive records in the history of Iona. With the help of Juniors Don Scanlon, Paul McEvoy and George Zahringer along with sophomore Jack Pollack, supplied the precision and determination needed for the team's success. This well balanced team showed not only the desire but the ability to overcome it's strong opposition. Taking advantage of the fine facilities of Wykagyl C.C. and Bonnie Briar C.C. the team rolled over their opponents with the skill of professionals. A great deal of credit must be given to the fine guidance of Br. Daigneault who helped to mold a team with a taste for victory.

The school year is made up of many, many facets, sides, situations, . . . in short, it is a living, active community – with all the complexity of its parent community; the city, state, country . . . and guided by the facts and attributes that make all its members human.

The school year comes and goes in a quiet presence . . . with each member of the community experiencing it in his own personal way. But, here at Iona, it is not fleeting time which affects us, but a complete happening, a feeling, an experience . . .

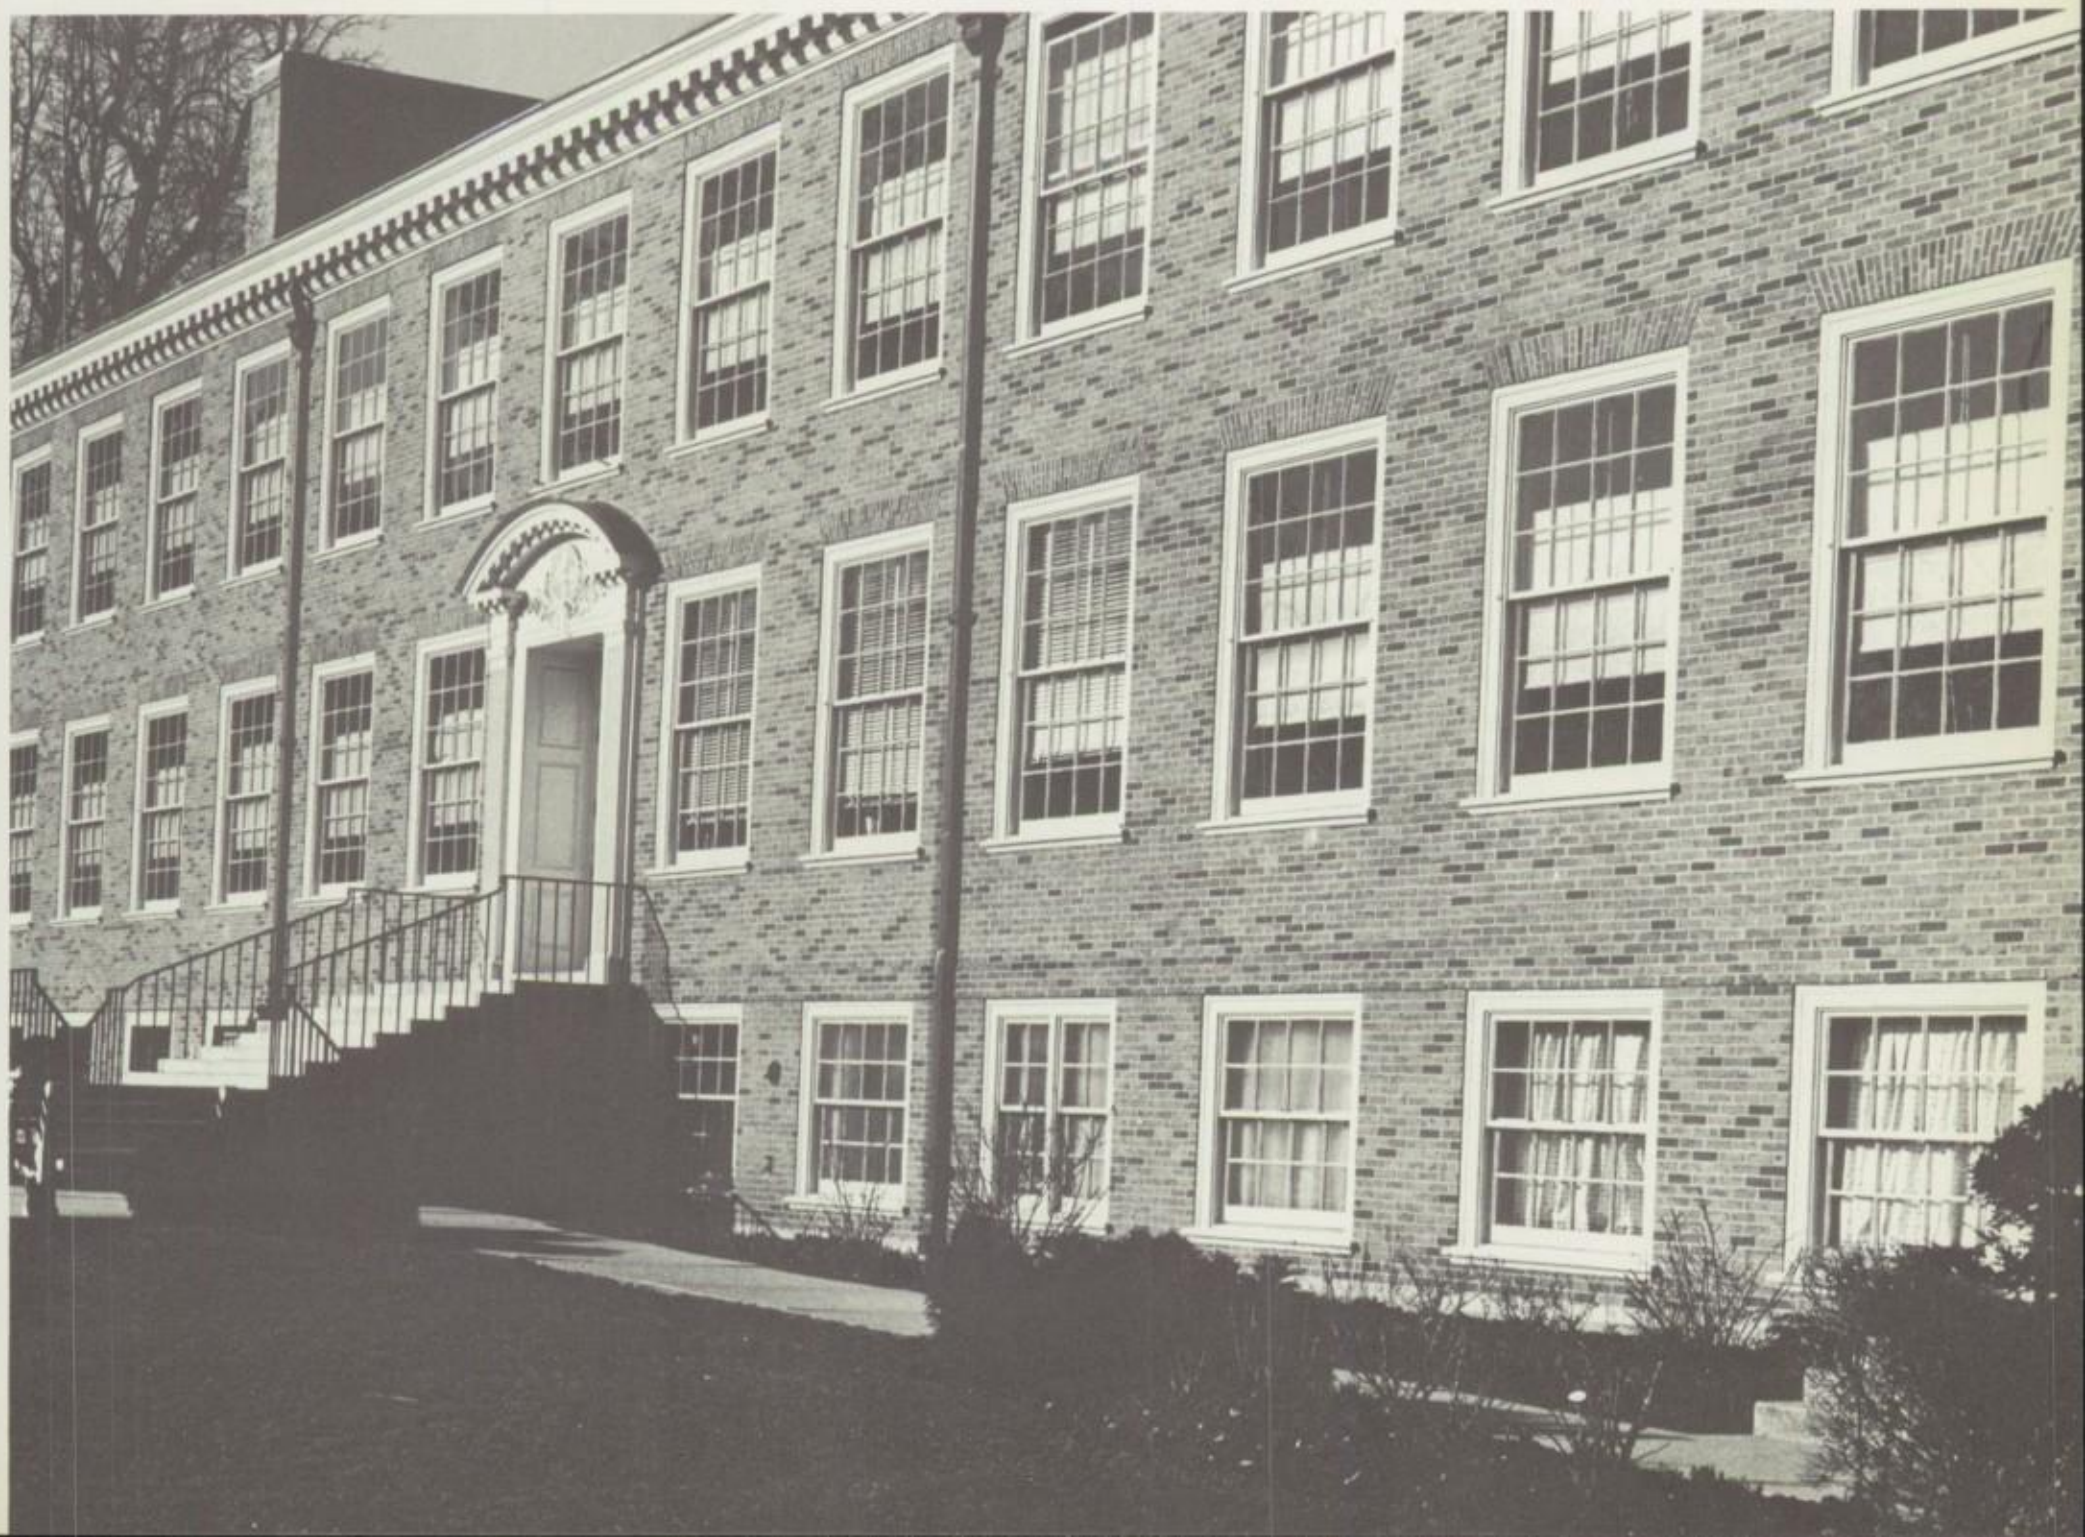
Days Of Future Passed

The Old Prep
More than a school – a tradition.
We were to be the last to experience it.
Freshman year was not easy.
"Gentlemen, if you're ever called to my office,
You know you're in trouble."
Sharing lockers, one classroom all day.
But all that really did not matter,
Because we were in high school.
We weren't very involved that year.
We weren't expected to be.
Out of school at two o'clock was the best part.
Mr. Smith – English, white sox and cute remarks.
Brother O'Connell was our "light".
Brother Dunne:
Student – Teacher – Rehabilitation-Aid – Program.
Dances on the tennis courts.
Brother Hayes' witty comments.
Floating intramural games were our specialty.
Tests were difficult,
Maybe we should have studied.
Vacations did not come often enough.
Week-ends became savored delights.
Brother Devlin had a guidance office in the attic.
Mid-terms and finals – unbelieveable.
It was too close for many of us.
What's a term paper?
Ninety averages were stratospheric except for a few.
School spirit was spotted,
Because there wasn't much to cheer about.
A science lab?
"Some of you men are a disgrace."
The summer was much too short.
Sophomore year came with a present – the New Prep.
It wasn't ready for us – but we invaded anyway.
Broken pipes, funny desks and
New teachers made it an interesting transformation.
Involvement grew as new activities sprouted.
"I wouldn't be a freshman for anything."
We found out what a science lab was.
What's a Student Council? A Victory Party?
Stepinac 15 – Iona 14, 28 seconds left – impossible!
C.H.S.F.L. Champions and we contributed.
"You mean to say there's no more strap."
Everyone had doubts about where he was headed.
The marks . . .
The changing of classes wasn't difficult to adapt to.
Julius Caesar's soliloquy in Act II, Scene iii.
A new Principal . . . Br. Delaney.
Brother Timoney – chem.
Brother Moffett's Honors Math.
One half-hour more of school.



Junior year didn't bring many surprises.
Some of us became Presidents of activities,
While others remained essentially uninvolved.
A new Dean of Discipline – Brother Keane.
Thanksgiving Day Iona 32 – New Rochelle 7
Mr. Dineen and English were great.
Our spirit grew as we accepted more responsibilities.
Five tests a day.
Brother McGoldrick's Chem classes, a 360° curve.
Studying almost became a necessity.
The P.S.A.T.s and all the talk of college made us wish
That we were freshmen again.
The cliques had been formed,
And the athletes and intellectuals polarized.
But we united when the time came.
The lunchroom – like trying to eat on the subway.
Everyone planned their strategy for Senior year.
We expanded and joined activities –
Knowing that they would be ours shortly.
Brother Harlow's Math class.
Intramural volleyball was the sport.
The basketball team won more than they lost.
As the year ended, elections for everything were held.
Henze-Melody won THE election.
Then came the summer – some got jobs,
Others went to summer school.
Visits to college campuses and interviews.
We returned in September as the leaders.
Not exactly sure of what we were doing,
We moved slowly at first.
Three All-league stars in Football helped.
It was hard to believe that we made it this far.
The new curriculum sounded good, and
Some went to Iona College for Chemistry.
The first semester was important to all of us.
We finally realized what "Iona Spirit" really was.
Recommendations, financial aid forms,
Acceptances and rejections were a part of life.
The Senior Slump settled in during late January
And lasted until the final college notices were posted.
The involvement had risen to a peak.
Mr. Excitement.
Iona Action and the Humanities were new additions.
There was not one football, basketball or baseball game
That did not receive our full attention.
Getting by was no longer good enough.
We gave Power a run for their money in the Play-offs.
Middle States Evaluators
We gave more than we thought we had for the Prep
But all that is behind us now.
We are facing a new experience.
